

Seussical

SHOREY WALKER
is
THE CAT IN THE HAT

The Lucille Lortel Theatre

“Shorey Walker, who now plays the Cat in the Hat, is not only more talented than the fatuous feline once played by Rosie O'Donnell in the original production but also immeasurably lighter on the scales and on the eye.”

“The performing by all is wholly enjoyable, by some even outstanding. I have nothing but praise for Walker's Cat, who is not only the cat's meow but also the cat's pajamas.”

-John Simon, Bloomberg

“The Cat in the Hat [is] played with a pleasing manic spirit by Shorey Walker. [The show is] performed by a hearty young cast of a dozen, each radiating easygoing spunk.”

-Charles Isherwood, The New York Times

“Appropriately elastic in physicality and madcap in manner as the show's ringleader, Shorey Walker sports the Cat in the Hat's striped stovepipe with a gleaming sense of mischief.”

-Michael Sommers, The Star Ledger

“...where the Cat in the Hat (Shorey Walker, a nimble comic) keeps things spinning.”

-Joe Dziemianowicz, The Daily News

